DEDICATION

THIS issue of the Magazine is dedicated to the Emergency Appeal to raise $1,250,000 for Wesleyan College for the purpose of meeting its indebtedness; to the cause of Christian Education which has been so nobly furthered by Wesleyan College for nearly one hundred years; and to the task which is the immediate concern of every one of us: the task that can best be summed up in the words

THE IMPORTANCE of the movement now under way—the Emergency Appeal to raise a fund of $1,250,000 for Wesleyan College—cannot be stressed too strongly nor too urgently. It is not stating the case with too much emphasis to say that a crisis has been reached in the almost-century-old career of our Alma Mater.

We must face the situation, meet it with all the power at our command—and meet it NOW, without delay.

In the upbuilding of Wesleyan to meet the advancing demands of education and to provide our girls with educational facilities fully in keeping with those extended by other institutions of higher learning, Wesleyan created certain obligations.

These obligations, these investments, in fact, were incurred in the construction and equipment of a group of buildings of which we, as daughters of Wesleyan, view with pardonable pride. And they were created in the best of faith during a period when no one was able to discern the economic disturbance that was to befall the whole world.

Now, equipped to give our girls an unsurpassed standard of education, our Alma Mater, because of the obligations incurred in providing this equipment, faces the loss of its accredited standing with all that such loss would mean in prestige to Wesleyan and her daughters.

To preserve our Alma Mater's ranking, these $1,250,000 in obligations must be cleared away at once. Hence the campaign NOW—an inescapable, immediate task to save Wesleyan.

A GRAVE DANGER

BY DICE ROBINS ANDERSON

President of Wesleyan College

YOUR ALMA MATER, dear old Wesleyan, which you love so much and of which the whole South is so proud, is in jeopardy. A debt created for the purpose of erecting the beautiful new buildings at Rivoli and the accumulated interest charges have brought about a burden which the College cannot longer carry. Face to face with the painful alternative of surrendering what a century has built up or, despite hard times, appealing to her friends and daughters for sacrificial giving that she might survive, she could do nothing but launch this present campaign. You would never have forgiven us if we had done otherwise. The situation admitted no postponement. We have to fight.

And what would we rather fight for than for this old College? It is not her age alone that makes her unspeakably precious. Yet we are proud of her age, It is not a small thing that your alma mater is the first college in the history of the world to be chartered with the distinct and original purpose of giving to the girls of the South an education equal to that offered to their brothers. During this century of her existence there have clustered around her memories and traditions that are timeless. That she granted the first degree given by a woman's college to a woman; that Bishop George F. Pierce was her first President; that Sidney Lanier played his flute on her musical programs and courted his wife in her parlors; that she has survived wars and panics—despite all conditions ministering to the intellectual, social and spiritual needs of her girls; that she has never cheapened herself, has held aloft her unsullied flag, rallying around it the finest women of the south; that she has sent her daughters to the four corners of the earth, carrying the gospel of truth, beauty and faith and love everywhere—these are things you know.

Despite her poverty and difficulties, and the strenuous days that face us, I am proud to belong to the Wesleyan family. Our trustees are faithful men and women; our faculty are well trained, loyal and consecrated; our girls are simply superior: the girls that have gone out—you, the alumnae, represent in your home towns the best of southern culture. There is about Wesleyan a conservatism that holds fast to what has been proven, a progressiveness that reaches out for all that the present and the future have to offer. There is an intellectual integrity, a unity of spirit, a friendliness, a wholesomeness of approach to intellectual, social, and religious matters which are unsurpassed. No well-meaning girl can come to Wesleyan without receiving a blessing.

It is much more than buildings we want to keep. We want to keep unhurt this inheritance. We want to keep this spiritual asset for ourselves and for others. We want to maintain the excellence of our reputation, the fineness of our character, the quality of our work. We want the girls of tomorrow to enjoy them—your daughters and grand daughters, possibly the daughters and grand daughters of your friends, the wives of your sons, the women of tomorrow. We want the people of Georgia, of the South and of the country, to have the influence of Wesleyan, helping to sweeten and to beautify its life.

Shall we not save Wesleyan—for even a better day, a richer service?

To this noble and heroic task, I summon all her daughters and friends, in the confidence that they will rally courageously to the "oldest and best" in this time of need.

OUR ALMA MATER NEEDS US

BY ALLEEN (POER) HINTON

Alumnae Campaign Chairman

"A STAR in the dark is thy glorious past!"

Only four years and Wesleyan turns a century. How long we have been planning for that happy celebration! How often we have paused in the passing years to be thrilled again by the story of Wesleyan's heroic beginning and the indomitable courage of those crusading spirits to whom we owe her glorious pioneer existence! How we have gloried in this rich heritage! How our hearts warmed to President Anderson when in his first messages to us we sensed his appreciation of Wesleyan as the "finer school for the finer girl."

In a succession of bi-centennials our nation is renewing faith in values that are eternal. Years ago Alexander Stephens said that the passage of the bill for the incorporation of Wesleyan consecrated the halls of Georgia's legislature. "Whatever honor therefore Georgia is entitled to for her other great works of improvement and achievement, however broad, massive, and substantial the materials may be that enter into the monument reared to her fame, however high they may be piled up, let this still be at the top, the filling and crowning point of her glory—that she took and holds the lead of the world in female education."

On the occasion of the opening of the new college buildings and campus, the Atlanta Journal reiterated this appreciation for real values in Wesleyan:

"Splendid alike in fulfillment and in prophecy was the opening yesterday of the ninety-second year of Georgia's Wesleyan—Georgia's and America's, for the whole republic does honor to its pioneer in the higher education of women. In those four score years and ten our commonwealth has passed from peace and plenty to war and war's grimmest aftermath, has been tried in the fires that Providence holds for whom it would make strong, and has come forth with new luster. But no experience of those eventful decades has entered into the life of our people more deeply, more benignly, more beautifully, than the influence of Wesleyan.

"Entering now into a new habitation, she begins a new era, but begins it with the old faith, which is the old power."

At the same time President Harvey Cox of Emory said:

"Wesleyan today makes one of the greatest forward steps in education that has been made in some time. It is the beginning of a new day in Southern education."

How we were inspired by the vision of the new and more glorious era on whose threshold the old college stood! The oldest woman's college had become the most modern!

And today?

A mountain of financial burden not only blocks her way to the future but threatens her very existence. Bishop Candler, the speaker on the opening day, declared:

"It has been the glory of Wesleyan College to fit women for the most heavenly service in the world. . . What would be the condition of our land if their influence had never issued from the halls of Wesleyan? What would be the case if it were suddenly withdrawn? What blight would fall on the future if the college were closed and it ceased to send forth its daughters?"

The current issue of The Journal of the American Association of University Women comments that the present situation of women's colleges is relatively the same as it was in the early days of higher education of women. Our women's colleges struggle valiantly to keep, not only their own separate heads but the whole career of women's higher education above water in these stormy times.

What shall we do with this noble heritage which is our sacred trust?

In the early days of Wesleyan Dr. Pierce said:

"If it is allowed to fail it will be a blot upon the church to which it belongs, a disgrace to the state and a misfortune to generations to come."

Dr. Quillian, through whose faith, devotion, and untiring effort the magnificent new plant and the enlarged opportunity for progress were realized, has said: "What should be done for Wesleyan College can be done, and by the grace of God and the good will of the people, it shall be done."

You know the facts: the college must clear an indebtedness of $1,250,000. The alternatives no loyal Wesleyan alumna can contemplate—either the college must be closed by default or if only a small amount be raised to "tide over," the fine academic standing the college has attained and must maintain will be lost.

We have all confidence that our trustees have made every effort to work out the distressing financial situation at the price of personal sacrifice of their own time and money. It is a burden too great to be carried by a few. The myth of the great, generous, wealthy philanthropist who might come to our rescue is only a myth. Our Alumnae minutes of thirty-odd years ago admonish us against that rainbow hope. We who love Wesleyan must save it! It cannot be done by a few or with less than sacrificial effort by all, every one of us. We are asked to accept an alumnae quota of $100 each. Some among the most loyal will not be able to subscribe even that amount. Others can and are urged to make much larger contributions. It is an imperative necessity that each of us shall come to the rescue with our utmost endeavor in every way. Pray for the campaign! Talk for the campaign! Work for the campaign! Give for the campaign!

Wesleyan counts on each of us. We must not fail Wesleyan!

"Forever and ever thy glory shall last!"

In Memoriam

(Since Commencement, 1932)

ROWENA (GUNBY) MITCHELL

A. B. 1857

Rowena (Gunby) Mitchell, the oldest alumna of Wesleyan, died August 18 at her home in Atlanta at the age of 91. She had been a resident of Atlanta since 1875, and was widely known and beloved. She was the widow of Captain Henry Carleton Mitchell who served with General R. E. Lee in all the Virginia campaigns.

She is survived by a daughter and five sons.

THULIA (WHITEHURST) MYRICK

Ex '76

Thulia (Whitehurst) Myrick died at her home in Milledgeville in October. She is survived by five daughters and one son. One of her sisters is Josephine (Whitehurst) Rozar of the class of 1881. Her niece, Nannette Rozar, is dietician at Wesleyan.

ANNA HARROLD

A. B. '88

Anna M. Harrold of Macon died in her apartment at the Massee in October after an illness of several months. She is survived by four brothers and two sisters, as well as many nieces and nephews.

KATE LEE HARRALSON

Kate Lee Harralson, widely known Atlanta musician and for 25 years director of music in the Atlanta public schools, died October 13 after a lingering illness.

She was the composer of many well-known songs, among them "Cherokee Rose", which is to be featured at the Georgia Bi-Centennial Exposition next year.

After attending Wesleyan, she studied at the Barili School of Music and the Boston Conservatory.

SALLIE (WHITE) RENDER

Ex 1868

Sallie (White) Render of Atlanta died July 25 at her residence on Ponce de Leon Ave. after an illness of several months. She was a member of a prominent Alabama family and passed her childhood at Whitehall, a famous colonial mansion in southern Alabama. She was a woman of great culture, widely informed in history of the South. She reared as her children her niece, Mrs. Albert Dunson of Atlanta and J. S. White of Greenville.

Class Notes

Editorial Note:—The class secretaries sent in notes for the February, 1932, alumnae magazine, which had to be eliminated on account of finances. Wherever possible those notes are included in this issue.

1862

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. O. A. Clark (Ella Anderson), 76 Arlington Place, Macon, Ga.

Julia (Sims) Lucky sent to the Alumnae Office a copy of an article which she wrote for The Macon Telegraph and Messenger long ago in answer to a speech opposing "female suffrage." Mrs. Lucky was an ardent supporter of woman suffrage from her girlhood, and was an outstanding leader in the cause. The article is called "Something From One of the Ivy Vines," and in it she proves herself to be really a "sturdy oak" and not in the least an "ivy vine." The article is dated 1870, and is the first suffrage article ever published in Georgia.

Cora (Warren) Beck, Montevallo, Ala. writes: "I have been reading with a great deal of interest the last issue of the 'Wesleyan Alumnae.' There are many familiar names but I am sure there would be no familiar faces should I suddenly appear in their midst. I have been wondering for some years why the 1869 class is so utterly silent and forgotten. It seems there might be one who would give at least a faint 'peep-peep,' but I have heard nothing from any of them. There are others older than we whose voices are sometimes raised.

"I am inquiring about my old chums anyway, and would be glad to have a word of them. Many have passed to the higher life, no doubt, indeed, some whom I love most dearly.

"The great strides Wesleyan has made in the years past make me sure she will go on 'conquering and to conquer' for the future. I am always hoping to see the new Wesleyan some day, but my thoughts and affection go out to the dear old building, the chapel and its surroundings, even the old red brick fence that so securely enclosed them. I know it has gone long ago however."

1870

Cora Burghard, ex '29, studied this summer at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Chester Springs, Penn. Cora is a pupil of "Miss Mollie" Mason, A. B. '70.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Thomas Peters (Kate Ross), 358 Parkway Dr., Atlanta, Ga. Dear Classmates:

First and foremost, you will all rejoice with me over the good luck that has befallen Sallie (Barker) Hill. She has won, by her own brain, $500 in a contest! She was always at the top in any contest. Congratulations to you, my dear old classmate, I am mighty proud of you!

Next, my old desk-mate, Clara (Wells) Hoge is living in Atlanta, and though, like myself, she is afflicted with rheumatic twinges, she is very loyal to her old classmate and comes trudging out once a week to see me, and she and I certainly do have a good time talking and laughing over the doings of our school days.

Loula (Dozier) Lowndes and Nellie (Verstille) Glenn also are Atlanta residents, but unfortunately we do not see each other often.

Through the medium of the Alumnae magazine I have come in touch with another old classmate, Ida (Fraser) Turrentine, living in Miami, Fla., with her daughter. We have kept up a pleasant correspondence ever since our renewed acquaintance and exchanged Christmas presents.

I heard casually of another classmate who is living in Columbus, Minnie (Drane) Bullock. I believe this is the extent of my knowledge of the old girls.

After an absence of six years I have returned to Atlanta after living in Florida, California, and various other places. It looks as if I am here to stay for I never get out of the house unless some friendly car takes me for a ride.

With best wishes for the success and continuance of the Wesleyan Alumnae. I am a dear lover of old Wesleyan and always interested in anything about the doings of my Alma Mater.

With regards,

Kate (Ross) Peters, Class Secty.

And from Atlanta comes this news: Mary Reynolds, '98, had Kate (Ross) Peters and Lula (Dozier) Lowndes both of the class of '73, to a little "tea party" the other afternoon. They were college mates of Mary's mother (Mary Myers) and of her Aunt Fanny Myers. It was lots of fun to hear Mrs. Peters call her Class Roll. She is deeply interested in all that concerns Wesleyan.

1874

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. F. Burden, (Minnie Bass), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

1875

Class Secretary: Mrs. L. J. Bradley (Lilly Johnson), Cartersville, Ga.

The circle narrows—the roll call of 1875—fifth in the roll, Bettie Lou (Dubose) Quinn, is now answering the roll call "up yonder."

The forget-me-nots of tender association are clustered about the memories of this beloved classmate. She seemed to have been born with a natural gift of being courteous—"the kind that takes the furrows out of people's brows and gives the world a smiling countenance."

Her presence among the boarding family of the college—in the classroom—in the Adelpian Hall—always brought good cheer and a flood of glad sunshine.

The sixteenth on roll call, Alice (Leverett) Bullard, has changed her name to Hearn and her residence to Eatonton, Ga. A classmate asks, "What do you think of that?" and I reply, "If you and I possessed the beauty that marked Alice perhaps you and I might have had second marital opportunities." Alice was an Adelpian and roommate of Bessie Lou DuBose in the college.

Lilly (Johnson) Bradley, Class Secty.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. G. Solomon

(Lillian Roberts), 107 Buford Place, Macon, Ga.

Consuello (Proudfit) Hersh, '19, of York, Penn., daughter of the late Bessie (Napier) Proudfit, '76, visited her aunt, Pearl (Napier) O'Daniel, 1879, in Macon this summer.

May Cheatham, the daughter of Mattie (Pritchett) Cheatham, was married on June 22 to William F. Bucholtz of Atlanta, an electrical engineer employed by the government, a graduate of the University of Wyoming. Mattie lost her husband, Dr. T. A. Cheatham, on December 7, 1931. He was for years a prominent druggist in Macon and was for 20 years state drug inspector. Three of his sisters are Wesleyan alumnae, Belle Cheatham, A. B. '79, Fannie Cheatham, A. B. '84, and Charlye (Cheatham) Laing, A. B. '84.

Hannah (Slappey) Neil died January 20, at the home of her son, Harris C. Neil, 4022 Shannon Lane, Dallas, Texas. After graduating from Wesleyan she went to Wellesley College in Massachusetts for one year and in 1886 married Samuel T. Neil of Ft. Valley. To them were born four children, Harris, Marshall, Fannie and Alice, all of whom have died except Harris. She lost her husband in 1912 and since that time made her home with her eldest son, Harris, whose residence has been in Atlanta, Charlotte, and Dallas, Tex. She was a Methodist, and did much work in Sunday School and Missionary Society, was a devout Christian and lived her belief. She was a member of the Adelpian Society at Wesleyan.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Washington Dessau (Fannie Gilmer) Forsyth Rd., Macon, Ga.

Alice (Brimberry) Bussey and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary December 15, 1931, with a beautiful reception at their home in Cuthbert. Their cards were beautifully embossed in gold and read, "1881-1931. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bussey have the pleasure of announcing the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, Tuesday Evening, December fifteenth."

1879

Class Secretary: Mrs. Cuyler King (Henrietta Nisbet) care Capt. R. T. Adams, Ft. Sill, Okla.

Belle Cheatham gave to Wesleyan several pages from an old note-book she kept while a student at college, and on one of these pages was a poem called, "All Fools' Day," commemorating a prank that was played by the seniors, who were severely reproved by Dr. Bass:

Sweet April with her smiles and tears
May yearly come and go,
But never in the coming years
Will we forget, I know.

The day that we, a happy throng
Of merry girls at school
Played truant. Ah, 'twas very wrong,
But then, 'twas April Fool.

With gay and happy hearts we went
Where sweet wild violets blow
And neath the leafy boughs that bent
O'er the green swards below.

We laughed and sang as schoolgirls will
Escaped from school-room rules,
We crossed the brook and climbed the hill,
A band of "April Fools."

In careless sport we gathered flowers
Then left them there to die
Emblems of transitory hours
Whose pleasures quickly fly.

But deemed not we that such moral drew
From fading wreaths of flowers,
Our serious thoughts were very few
While in those woodland bowers.

Each bright and happy girlish face
The shadows chased away.
Made sunshine in a shady place
That sunny April day.

Yet to each heart so light and gay
One thought intruded soon,
"Just think, what will the teachers say
To us this afternoon?"

And wondering what would befall
Our band for breaking rules,
We thought that perhaps, after all,
We were the April Fools.

And ever since that April Day
We all repent, but then
As seniors all can truly say,
We WON'T do so again.

Henrietta (Nisbet) King was seriously ill in a Charlotte, N. C. hospital this summer following an operation for appendicitis, but has recovered.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Alfred Truitt (Ida Price), 1027 Columbia Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

Campbell T. King, husband of Stella (Hunt) King, was honored by the Macon Rotary Club on his eightieth birthday, July 26th. He also attended a birthday dinner given for him by his daughter, Odille (King) Dasher, A. B. '07.

Emmie (Truman) Swann returned to her home in Atlanta in June after spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. W. Daves (Annie Hopkins), Cartersville, Ga.

Annie (Hopkins) Daves wrote recently: "In looking over a box of letters today I came across three Wesleyan programs of bygone days. I am sending them to you thinking perhaps they might find a place in 'Wesleyana.'

"The Mary Hinton who was salutatorian in '68, was my step-mother of precious memory. I have heard that so unselfish and regardless of self she was in her girlhood days that she turned down the valedictory as she knew the girl who was her rival was going to teach and needed the backing that she could get with that honor. So my mother went to the faculty and in some way worked it, so that the other girl got the place."

Class Secretary: Mrs. C. E. Damour (Laura Jones), 202 High St., Macon, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Susie (Bonnell) Stone in the death of her husband, Professor Harry Harlan Stone, librarian of Emory Academy at Oxford, on August 18. He spent 59 years of his life as student and teacher on the Oxford campus, and was greatly beloved by a host of Emory boys. His father was at one time a professor at Wesleyan College.

Frances (Johnson) Akin is living in New York City (455 West 34th St.) with her three grandchildren. The two older girls are working. Their mother is dead.

Mamie (White) Corbett died at her home in Frost Proof, Fla., on January 24. She is survived by her husband.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. D. Lamar, Dorothy (Blount), 238 Georgia Ave., Macon, Ga.

Dorothy (Blount) Lamar went to Bainbridge recently to attend a U. D. C. convention. She made the speech presenting Governor-elect Talmadge, who was the main speaker of the occasion.

1884

Class Secretary: Mattie Rogers, 375 College St., Macon, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Mary Lou (Hunt) Oberly, sister of Stella (Hunt) King, '80, in the death of her husband, Rudolph Oberly, treasurer of the city council of McRae, in October.

1885

Minnie Burghard, beloved teacher in the Macon School system for more than 45 years, and principal of the Joseph Clisby school, retired in December, 1931, on account of illness. During her illness, her place was filled by Carolyn (Cater) Jones, A. B. '17.

1886

Class Secretary: M. Kate Neal, 1364 Emory Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Emma Smith lives at 335 College St., Macon, Ga. In July, August, and September she crossed the continent in the Travelcade Camps, seeing the great Olympic Games in California. With such rejuvenating experiences is it any wonder that she does not look like she has been a teacher for forty-five years? Even so—Emma says she is always glad to get back to her boys and girls at Fort Hawkins School in Macon.

Lillie Bremer spent her holidays with relatives in Atlanta and Mississippi returning in September to her wonderful art work at Queen's—Chicora College, Charlotte.

Lura Simmons visited relatives in Montgomery coming back to her coaching classes when the schools of Atlanta opened. Her new address is 136 8th St., Apt. 1.

Annie (Mix) Bowdre spent the summer months in Atlanta with her daughter Katharine at 85 Inman Circle.

A dream came true for Minnie Rice as she enjoyed the beauty of earth and sea and sky when she spent many weeks touring "the Land of Flowers."

Mamie (Holtzclaw) Robeson's small grandson, Lint Lovett, has a penchant for numerals. Despite the fact that he can quote measurements of the highest mountains in the world, he refuses to believe any mountains are higher than Mount Pisgah and Mount Mitchell, N. C. Lint had the pleasure of climbing these this summer. Mamie talks most interestingly of her tour of N. C. and her visit to the Cherokee Indian Reservation.

Chloe (Smith) Hutchinson is interested in church and club work in her home town. She is regent for the D. A. R. chapter at Monticello.

A new radiance comes to the face of Annie (Hyer) Coleman, 26 Penn. Ave., Atlanta, when she tells you of the seven attractive grandchildren she possesses. Florence Coleman and P. D. Allen, Jr., are the new jewels.

As Blanche (Hall) Neel and Kate Neal marched together in cap and gown on April 8 at the Inauguration of Dr. Dice R. Anderson to the presidency at Wesleyan, they talked of the times they marched together for "calisthenics" in the old chapel in 1886. At Mulberry Church they saw Mattie (O'Daniel) Smith, Emma Smith, and Annie (Mallory) Andrews.

A kaleidoscope of memories came into their hearts, and these two voiced the wish that the "others" could have been with them in that old church.

"There is a Reaper whose name is Death
And with his sickle Keen"— he has reaped one of our fairest beloved classmates, Sarah (Nunnunally) Harrison, who "passed through the Valley of the Shadow of Death" in June. Early in January she was visiting in Montgomery with her only son, Lieut. George P. Harrison of the U. S. Army. The day they were to return to their home in Opelika, she had a hard fall. The injuries received kept her in Hubbard's Hospital in Montgomery until she passed to the Great Beyond.

Sympathy is extended to Virginia (Hill) Wilhoit in the death of her husband, William F. Wilhoit, on October 26, 1931. He was a retired business man and landowner of Warrenton. His death occurred after a long illness, and he was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery in Macon. Virginia has three sons.

In the Paris New York Herald, a copy of which has recently come to the alumnae office, appears a picture of Nannaline (Holt) Duke with her daughter, Doris, as richest girl in the world.

We extend sympathy to Emy (Norris) Hall. In December, death claimed the last member of her paternal family when her noble brother, Colonel John Norris, of Cartersville, passed to the Great Beyond.

Thanksgiving Day, 1931, was a great day for Jimmie (Finch) Boone at her Pine Castle, Florida, home. There was a reunion of five generations of her family; present—her mother, Mrs. Mary McCall Finch (86 years); Jimmie (Finch) Boone; her son, Dr. William L. Wood of Mt. Dora, Fla.; a granddaughter, Aline Wood; another granddaughter, Mrs. Arnold J. McEver, of Plant City, Fla.; and a great grandson, Arnold J. McEver, Jr. Jimmie says she does not feel old enough to be a great grandmother, but "it is great—it is grand!"

When Emma Smith and Minnie Rice motored from Macon to Perry for a visit to Stella (Duncan) Cater, Stella writes, "How I did enjoy seeing these dear old girls, and how we talked of the good old days!"—and—"This morning my garden wished me a Happy New Year with snapdragons, narcissus, violets, roses, white hyacinths, tea olives, japonicas, and in a sheltered place, I found some pink and blue morning glories!"

At the Christmas season, 1931, Lynn Branham participated in the Golden Wedding celebration of her brother, Rev. Walter R. Branham II, and Adelaide (Singleton) Branham, A. B. '80, at her ancestral home in Oxford, Ga. This wonderful couple have nobly "kept the faith, and served their day and generation." In 1890 Lynn's father, Rev. Walter R. Branham and Elizabeth (Flournoy) Branham, whose name appears third on the list of graduates in 1840, the first class to graduate from Wesleyan, celebrated their Golden Wedding in the very same home. "Cheerio" told over the radio that there were only 61 families in the United States where father and son had celebrated a Golden Wedding in the same home. Lynn's father taught English two years at Wesleyan.

One of the happiest events of the last Christmas season for Annie (Hyer) Coleman, Lura Simmons, and Kate Neal is the visit they made together to 933 Juniper St., the home of their beloved teacher, Dr. Gustavus Richard Glenn and Mrs. Glenn. Dr. Glenn says of the flowers we took him, "They are beautiful and fragrant but not so sweet and refreshing as the faces of my 'dear old girls'." His conversation is interesting and inspiring. We could not have guessed that his 85th birthday had been celebrated December 5 if his daughter, Nell, had not told us. We found the same bright look in his blue eyes, and heard the same resonant voice he used in the old Wesleyan study hall when he sang at Twilight Prayer Services, "I want to be more like Jesus." The kind, gentle personality of this fine man bespeaks to his "old girls" that his song has come true.

M. Kate Neal, Class Secretary.

Class Secretary: Mrs. E. A. Douglass (Jennie Martin), Sanford, Fla.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the whole class of 1887 could meet again?

It was an outstanding, splendid class of girls, forty-five in all, and of that number seven were Florida girls.

One of the Florida girls was Jennie (Turnbull) Sloan, who now holds that responsible position at Florida State College. It has been my pleasure to visit with her in her office, where she presides with the same grace and tact she had in her college days. The Tallahassee girls surely love her and well they may!

I am sure no member of the class has forgotten how Alice Parish could sing. Her clear strong soprano voice was a joy to us all. Alice is now Mrs. L. P. Hext, and lives at 319 W. 40th St., Savannah. Let us hope that Alice is still singing.

We were always so proud of Waltie Rodgers as a member of the class. She was so pretty, but best of all her charming sweet manner endeared her to every one. She lived in Macon then, but she lives in Savannah now and her address is Mrs. Walter R. Singleton, 1006 E. Henry Street.

My wish for the class is that each one of us will keep a mental picture of every classmate enshrined within our hearts, and while we may never see all the class, we can at least recall some sweet memories of each one.

Jennie (Martin) Douglas, Class Secty.

Sympathy is extended to Madgie Lou (Roberts) Blair in the death of her husband, Alexander Blair, of Macon in November, 1931.

1888

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. F. Stone (Ida Lowrey), Blakely, Ga.; Mrs. Wooten (Belle Stewart), Gray, Ga.

"For the first time in a year we are having class notes in the Alumnae Magazine; send something for your class." This announcement on a card from Miss Loyall a few days ago brought back all the old Wesleyan thrill that I must admit has had a slump in the months that have passed with no news of our dear girls. I have tried to recall what I have heard, whom I have seen, since last we met! I do know something of Ella and Anna and Florence and Sallie and Annie, Clara and Mamie.

Just two weeks ago I saw Ella (McAndrew) Burney at her home in Macon, well and happy and busy making a home for the one unmarried son, Jerome. Ella devotes her life to her home, her children, and her church, and does it all well.

Margaret Cook is in America this year on her furlough from Japan, and the Wesleyan College household was delighted that she spent much of her time in the college, as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Florrie C. White, matron. She is as sweet and charming as ever, and as much in love with "dear old Wesleyan."

Florence Bernd is teaching the third generation at Boys' High in Macon! This sounds old but Florence is so active and cheerful, though never very strong, that we can still think of her as we knew her in the eighties. She is much beloved by the boys whose fathers and mothers she tutored when they were of school age.

Sallie (Barron) Ellis, the wife of a retired minister, has time to travel often the highway from Eatonton to her old home, Clinton. She never tires of talking about Wesleyan and the grand and glorious old days.

Not long ago, Clara (Boynton) Cole wrote interestingly of her life in Atlanta centered around her home, her five children, and their little ones. Two of the five are still with her, Elizabeth and the young son, Boynton, who is a senior at Georgia Tech. In her letter, Clara mentioned having seen recently Nannie (Carmichael) Beeland who was enthusiastic over an air ride she had with her "Flier" son from Birmingham to Atlanta.

Mamie (Haygood) Ardis, bless her! out of her busy life in far away California finds time to acknowledge a letter from an old friend. In the spring she wrote of the recital, vocal (remember when we called it "vocal"?) and piano that she was having with her pupils. She says when she is not teaching her boys and girls she spends much time, hose in hand, watering her lawn and shrubbery. I am sure Mamie's heart is yet young even if the years are passing. She must be with us our next reunion day.

The writer, with her daughter Frances (class of 1924) and the old friend, Kate Neal, (class of 1886) had a lovely day in June with Annie (Bates) Haden at her home in Atlanta. The hospitality of that home can never be forgotten once one has had the pleasure. There is a cordiality, a warmth a "hominess" that makes the guest want to linger. The young Wesleyanne on this occasion made a good listener for the three older ones who talked and talked. It is good to have old association with Annie awakened in the maturity of her beautiful life. We eighty-eighters are still bragging about our "Trustee member."

Will not some of the girls whose names do not appear here give us news of themselves? Please do! We will be very happy to include you in our next.

Ble (Stewart) Wootten.

Class Secretary: Mrs. George Watson (Annie Lou Laney), 319 Duncan Ave., Macon, Ga.

Annie Lou (Laney) Watson writes: "I have been busy with the care of a new granddaughter and her sweet young mother. 1931 was certainly 'prosperity year' with me as I am richer by two granddaughters and two grandsons. The latest arrival is little Eleanor Watson, born December 29th. I hope that some day she will be a Wesleyanne."

Deepest sympathy is extended to Virginia (Hopson) Ellis in the death of her husband, Roland Ellis, Sr. He was a former legislator, state senator, president of the Georgia Bar Association and the Macon Bar Association. He was also legal advisor for utilities companies in Macon. Mr. Ellis had a state-wide reputation as a brilliant after-dinner speaker.

Ina (Kelly) Petrie's new address is 752 West End Ave., New York, N. Y. She writes: "I am very glad to have the Wesleyan Alumnae of November. Here's hoping all the good wishes for Wesleyan under the new president's regime may come true."

Annie (Napier) Edwards writes: "I am inclosing a little picture of our cabin with the hope that some day you will find your way to my door. It is a beautiful world out here and one you would enjoy, so come before the two of us are too old to travel the trails to see the bear, the coyote, and even the cougar—the latter the fiercest animal in the hills."

She is Mrs. William Annesley Edwards and her post office is Warren, Idaho.

Sympathy is extended to Elizabeth (Sessions) Hannah in the death of her husband, W. J. Hannah, retired physician and business man of Montgomery, Ala., on January 2, after a long illness. Dr. Hannah was born in Florida in 1859, studied medicine at Emory and in New York, and began practicing medicine in Pensacola, where he was eminently successful. He was also associated with the drug firm of Hannah Brothers. The family moved to Montgomery 22 years ago when he retired from his practice to supervise his wide business interests. Elizabeth has a son, a daughter, and three grandchildren. Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth, who sent the notice of Dr. Hannah's death, writes, "I had a lovely visit with Elizabeth in her home in November."

Sympathy is extended to Annie (Speer) Anderson in the death of her only daughter, Eleanor Speer Burr Schoonamaker, in August after a long illness.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. P. Coleman (Ida Mangham), Massee Apts., Macon, Ga.

Wesleyan expects every alumna to do her part in overcoming the present crisis. I would not paraphrase the famous saying of Lord Nelson, because I cannot call it "duty"—it is allegiance, it is an opportunity to show our appreciation of what Wesleyan meant in our education, what she means as a background and what the happy associations of college life have meant in our lives. If each and every one gives according to her means, the deficit in Wesleyan's finances can be quickly marked off. I hope our class will make a good showing as we always have.

Agnes Barden spent her vacation in Washington, D. C., the guest of Miss Louise Campbell.

Sally May Akin, librarian of the Washington Memorial Library, has planned for the intelligentsia of Macon a forum for the discussion of public questions. The first lecture was on October 13th, Dr. John B. Clark of Mercer, speaking on International Relations. It was interesting and instructive, and was so popular that there was standing room only.

Lila May Chapman, librarian of the Birmingham Public Library, made a visit to her brother and sister in Macon. Her many friends were happy to see her, and regretted that her visit was cut short by a business call from Birmingham.

Mamie (Hatcher) Grady has just returned from her annual trip to Europe.

Sincerely,

Ida (Mangham) Coleman, Class Secty.
1891

Class Secretary: Mrs. Walter Grace, Sr. (Ruby Jones), 631 Forsyth St., Macon, Ga.

Addie (Corbin) Stone's daughter, Margaret, is studying commercial art this year in Baltimore, Md.

Two friends of '91 had a pleasant meeting this summer in the North Carolina mountains, Ethel (Barco) Jackson of Miami, and Ruby (Jones) Grace of Macon who were both at Hendersonville. There Ethel was successfully regaining her health after a protracted illness during the spring.

The many friends of Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth and Bishop W. N. Ainsworth are delighted that they are moving back to Georgia and to Macon. They have taken an apartment at the Massee, and will be at home there about November 21st after Bishop Ainsworth has held conferences. The Birmingham club of which Mary is the founder and president held a farewell meeting in her honor in October.

Della (Rogers) McCaw's youngest daughter, Martha, became one of the faculty wives of Wesleyan on June the eighth when she became the wife of Prof. Joe Almand of the department of Chemistry one week after her graduation. Martha is a fourth generation graduate; for besides her mother graduating in our class, her grandmother as Dellie Carver was a Wesleyan girl in 1858, and her great, great aunt Martha (Hardaway) Bailey as well as Bib (Hardaway) Redding the cousin who was one of the founders of Phi Mu.

Willie (Vandiver) Whitfield has written a very charming book, "My Trip Abroad," a copy of which she sent to Wesleyan with this message: "In appreciation of dear Wesleyan and the part she has played and the influence she has exerted in my life, I lovingly present this copy of 'My Trip Abroad' with the compliments of the author." A most interesting review of the book with biographical sketch of the author appeared in The Montgomery Advertiser written by her classmate, Addie (Corbin) Stone. Willie (Vandiver) Whitfield has two children, Katherine (Whitfield) Delaplane, who came to Wesleyan, and Louis B. Whitfield, Jr. She has two adorable grandsons to whom she dedicated her book.

Caroline (Waterman) Parson's only daughter Caroline who graduated in 1931 had a beautiful wedding in Hawkinsville in October.

Emma (Wise) Hall presented copies of a limited edition of a book of original verse to friends last Christmas.

Mamie (Wood) Williams ably presided at the state convention of the W. C. T. Union at Griffin in October, and as president of the organization gave an address widely reported in the newspapers of the state.

Class Secretary: Mrs. C. C. Jarrell (Margaret Moore), 1079 Oxford Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Mary Baber-Blackshear, sister of Birdie Baber-Blackshear, had a poem accepted by "College Humor." The poem deals with Thanksgiving, and will appear in the November issue.

At a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Church Mattie (Tarbutton) Harris was an important member. She, the conference secretary, and another Wesleyan girl, Bessie (Houser) Nunn, were the two South Georgia conference delegates in that representative body.

Margaret (Moore) Jarrell also served at that council. By virtue of her position as recording secretary of the North Georgia Missionary Society she had charge of the registration and information room and came in happy contact with the entire membership. But much more important to her is the radiant little grandson who is the sunshine of her only daughter's home.

We are grieving with Mary (Muse) Gillespie in the loss of her husband. Dr. Gillespie died in Albany in May.

Daisy Peddy is keeping up her interest in things musical all the time. Had a card from her, inspired by having heard Second Rhapsody over the radio.

Mary Bond Smith, after teaching for forty years in Macon Public Schools, has retired. She gave these years with high purpose and loyal devotion, wielding a wonderful influence on her pupils.

Deepest sympathy is extended to beloved "Pinkye" (Sykes) Houston in the death of her only daughter and namesake, India Houston, the charming girl who came with Pinkye to our class reunion in 1928. You remember how they stood together with their hands clasped on the front row of our picture taken on the steps of the old college—the gay happiness in Pinkye's face, and the sweet serenity in that of her daughter, of how she seemed to mother Pinkye, and of how at our tea at Gertrude Anderson's home, she read the old class prophecy for us amid gales of our laughter. She had recently made a most successful debut as a radio singer under the direction of her uncle in Washington, and was on her way to the home in Aberdeen, Miss., for the first visit since her success when she was taken suddenly ill and died at the home of friends in Charlotte before her mother could reach her.

Mattie (Tarbutton) Harris was at Juna-luska this summer representing the W. M. S. S. Georgia Conference in an important official gathering.

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. O. Jones (Loula Evans), Newnan, Ga.

A reception was given by Mary Rix (Bryan) Lawrence and her husband at their home in Baxley celebrating their wedding anniversary, August 12.

Elizabeth Manget, ex '32, and Jeanne, ex '33, who are attending Duke University this year, spent the Christmas holidays with their aunt and uncle, Linda (McKinney) Anderson, '93. They were joined in Macon by their mother, Mrs. Fred Manget, from Shanghai, China.

Martha (Morehouse) Bowen is living at 1620 Jonquil Terrace, Chicago, Ill. She writes: "I love Wesleyan very dearly. Some day I shall return to Georgia, my native state."

Neila Lou Walton of Newnan is spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Turner in Atlanta at their residence, 64 17th St., N. E.

Pauline (Burden) Stevens' daughter, Margaret Murphey McCuen and her two interesting children, Jean and Donald, Jr., have been visiting her in Newnan. Mrs. McCuen resides in Mexico City, Mexico, where her husband is a prominent lawyer.

A fashionable wedding of the New Year took place at the First Presbyterian Church in Atlanta when Miss Florence Fowlkes was married to Norman Gordon Miller, son of Lilla (Johnson) Miller. Lilla has every reason to be proud of this her only child. He was graduated from the University of Alabama in 1930 and also attended Harvard. He was an outstanding pupil, conspicuous for both mental and moral characteristics. He was a member of the Chi Phi fraternity.

My husband and I have just returned from a motor trip to Florida. We enjoyed the first Christmas tree with a grandson, Steve Powell, Jr., in Ft. Lauderdale. Then a week of fishing in Crystal River. We were welcomed home by the other grandson, R. O. Jones II, age five weeks.

Loula (Evans) Jones, Class Secty.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Lucy K. Johnson (Lucy Keen), 15 Woodbine Rd., Irvinton, N. Y.

Sympathy is extended to Nannette (Carter) Smith in the death of her brother, Dr. J. N. Carter of Savannah in December, 1931.

Julia Goodall spent several weeks in Chicago this summer and visited Mrs. Arthur Kaiser at Oak Park, Ill., formerly Miss Blanche Crafts, violin instructor at Wesleyan. Minnie Goodall, A. B. '91, has moved from Macon to Millen.

Stella (Hertz) Flatau and her husband enjoyed a trip to St. Simon's Island this summer. Their lovely daughter, Carol, spent some time visiting relatives in New York and Baltimore.

Lula (Johnson) Comer visited her daughter, Elizabeth (Comer) Weise in St. Paul, Virginia, and her cousin, Nina (Fish) McClesky, '94, in Atlanta during the summer. She is back at Wesleyan Conservatory this fall.

Clara (Mumford) Harwell's daughter, Clara Harwell Winslett, has a little son, Usher T. Winslett, Jr., born in July.

Mamie (Robinson) Felton's son, Jule Felton, Jr., of Montezuma has been honored by being selected as public service commissioner of Georgia to succeed Calvin Parker of Waycross. In an editorial about him, The Telegraph said: "Mr. Felton is a versatile young gentleman who has the driving force of energy and ambition. The state will hear a good deal more from him. ALMA MATER

Hail, Wesleyan, thou emblem of all that is grand
 The noblest, the greatest, in all our fair land;
 Thine ideals are honored, thy name always blest;
 A fountain of knowledge, the oldest and best.

A star in the dark is thy glorious past.
 Forever and ever thy glory shall last.
 Upholding thine ideals, thy daughters will be True, faithful, and loyal, dear Wesleyan, to thee.

JOIN THE CENTENNIAL CLUB

TO PREPARE for the forthcoming celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Wesleyan College, we are forming the Alumnae Centennial Club, in which every alumna subscriber to the present Emergency Appeal will be enrolled.

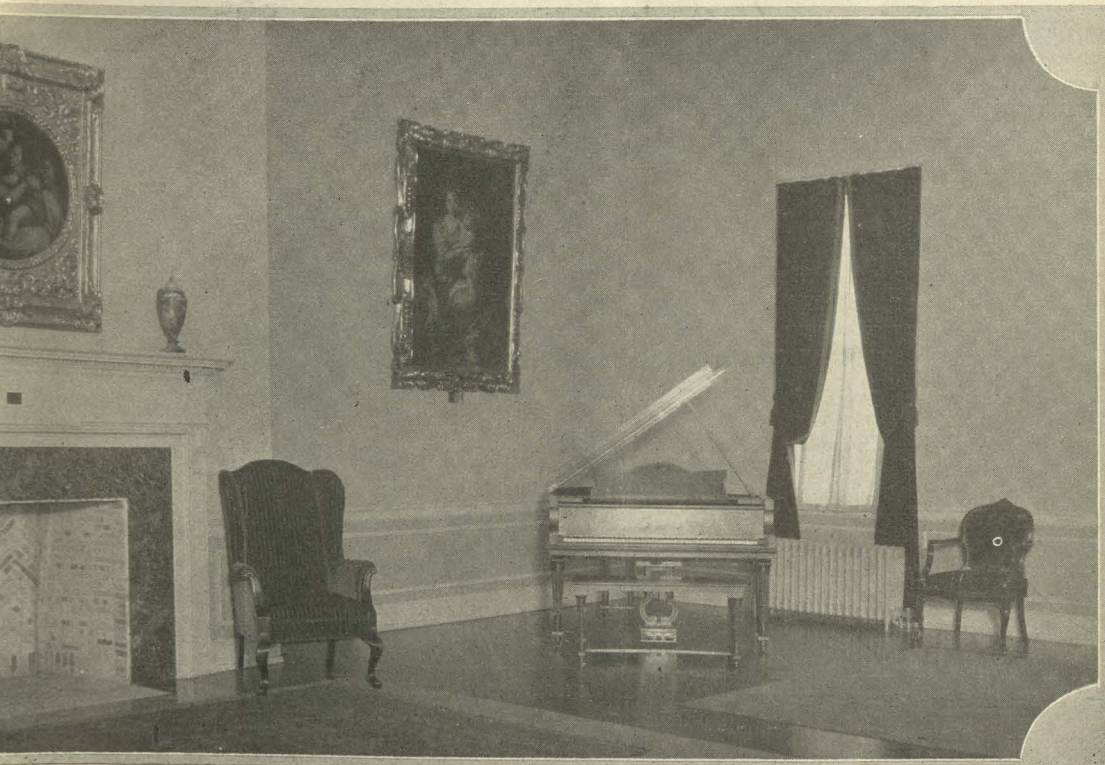

Carrying out the centennial idea, it has been suggested that the basic Alumna Pledge to the fund be $100.

This $100 is payable in five installments over a period of nearly two years—surely not an excessive sum when we realize what Wesleyan has done for us.

Many alumnae, of course, will want to give more, taking out additional memberships in multiples of $100.

Here, then, is an excellent opportunity to help make the present campaign a success and to pave the way for a glorious Centennial in 1936.

Join the Centennial Club!

Maud (Wilder) Trawick's twin granddaughters, Louise and Katherine Trawick, graduated from Converse College in Spartanburg, S. C., in June with cum laude in English. Maude received her M. B. degree with us being an honor pupil of Professor Newnan. Her mother, Mary Louise (Holmes) Wilder was a graduate from Wesleyan in 1864.

1895

Class Secretary: Mrs. Harry Ainsworth (Marian Hayes), Thomasville, Ga.

Florrie Jean (Richards) Lightfoot's poetry was the subject of a recent column by John T. Boufeuillet in The Atlanta Journal. "Bits of Arden," a book of her verse, is dedicated to Wesleyan. She has also written a play, "Broken Threads."

Marion (Hayes) Ainsworth's daughter, Sally, is at home this year. Last year she was at Sweet Briar College, as was Lena (Heath) Montgomery's (1896). Marion writes: "Sally says Lena's daughter is beautiful, so I know she looks like her mother."

Nell Pringle lives in Thomasville, is interested in music, in real estate, and in keeping house for her father. She is also a mother to her brother's little girl, whose own mother died when Betty was a baby.

Nellie (Lachlison) Thomson's son, Jim, is a freshman at Emory University this year.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Phil Lanier (Anna Wooten), West Point, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Eva Arnold in the death of her little niece, Annette Hendry, eleven years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delacy Hendry of 3120 Riverside Dr., Dayton, Ohio. She was run over by an automobile on September 19, 1931. She would have come to Wesleyan for her college work.

Rosa Valeria (Elder) Smith represented the Sidney Lanier chapter of the U. D. C. at its convention in Jacksonville, Fla. in the fall, 1931.

The gifted son of Sadie (Pitts) Corry, Dr. John Pitts Corry, assistant Dean of Emory University, went to Europe last fall with his wife and young son. Dr. Corry won a Rosenwald Fellowship entitling him to a year's study at any European university he might choose. He studied for a while at the University of Paris and later at Heidelberg, Germany. He has resumed his duties at Emory this year.

Class Secretary: Mrs. S. T. Coleman (Edith Stetson), 317 College St., Macon, Ga.

Roland Ellis, Sr., whose death occurred on January 8, was a brother of Genie Ellis, a valued member of the class of '97.

Era (Monk) Bryan's husband is a Methodist preacher, and they were moved from Olney, Texas, to Ranger, Texas at the last conference session.

Mary (Riley) Henry is teaching in Tampa, Fla., and part of her work is in the interesting new field of Character Education. She makes out lesson plans which are used by all home-room teachers in her building. "We have a new teacher," she writes, "Margaret Porter, a Wesleyan alumna. Isn't the world a small place, after all?"

Sympathy is extended to Sue (Simmons) Dykes, Special '97, in the death of her husband in September. Claudia Dykes, ex '27, her only daughter, lives in Montezuma with her, and she has two sons, T. J., Jr., and Rob of Montezuma.

An attractive picture of little Elizabeth Coleman, granddaughter of Edith (Stetson) Coleman, appeared in the Macon Telegraph in July.

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. G. Stephens (Lucy Evans), 615 Linwood Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

The Atlanta Alumnae members of 1908 class were hostesses for the Alpha Delta Pi's luncheon in February when Martha (Adams) Bigham will complete her two year term of office as president of the chapter. The members are Genie (Pace) Bell, Susie (Stevens) Janes, Christine (Brown) Cobb, Mary Reynolds, and Lucy (Evans) Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Bell announce the birth of Hunter Bell, Jr., December 31st. Hunter, Jr., is a grandson of Genie (Pace) Bell.

The Alumnae office received a letter from Lucy (Evans) Stephens, saying: "Mary Reynolds and I have a chance to ride down to Macon next Thursday morning in a sixteen cylinder Cadillac, so you may expect to see us roll up in great style! We want to spend the night, and Allie is coming down Friday to bring us back."

Sure enough, they did roll up in style Thursday, with chauffeur and corsages and heads in the air, to be met by Emma Stephens, Lucy's junior daughter, and Betty Hitch, Mary's cousin and president of the junior class. They had great fun being "millionaires" for a few hours, and then explained, "so you won't think we have robbed a bank" that the car belonged to friends of Mary's who were sending it to Florida. Said Lucy: "We came down two in a seven-passenger car, and we are going back very nearly seven in a two-passenger car."

It was Mary Reynolds' first visit to the new campus. She wrote afterwards: "The new college was a revelation to me, and truly the modern girl has opportunities undreamed of by 'our crowd.' Their most troublesome duties become pleasures and privileges. The beauties and conveniences of all the surroundings would certainly inspire to one's best efforts."

Mary Reynolds is a descendant of Dr. Myers, former president of Wesleyan.

Maude Chambers has attained an enviable position in her field. She holds the position of Professor of Art at Southeastern Teachers' College at Durant, Oklahoma. In a recent survey of the outstanding women of Oklahoma, covering all lines of endeavor, Maude was chosen as one of the 24 who are rendering outstanding service to the state.

Effie Alma (Elder) Harmon of Miami, Fla., writes: "I am just sorry that my only son can't go to Wesleyan."

Sympathy is extended to Irene (Murph) Banks in the death of her father I. F. Murph of Marshallville in November, 1931.

Lizzie Mae (Wooten) McKenzie of Montezuma attended the meeting of the Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century in Atlanta in November, 1931.

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. E. Hays (Louese Frederick), Montezuma, Ga.

Alleen Moon visited Louese (Frederick) Hays for a few days this summer just before going to Macon to conduct a Leadership Training School. She has charge of Leadership Training on the General Board of Christian Education of which Dr. W. F. Quillian is General Secretary.

Fannie Harmon is now Mrs. F. H. Lybass,

494 Suwanee Ave., Tampa, Fla. She is trained nurse there. Her children are all grown, college educated, and married.

Some of our class have asked for news of Gussie (Robinson) Maxwell's children. Gussie died in 1918, leaving four children. Audley Maxwell, Jr., has been attending Wofford College, Carolyn graduated in high school last year, Laurie and Augustus, twins are in Alabama with their father's sister, Mrs. Oden. They are all bright, fine children.

Malcolm Lockhart, son of Bessie May (Wardlaw) Lockhart, was honored recently by Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., when the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred on him. He is acting president of William Jennings Bryan University. The degree was the seventh of its kind conferred since the founding of Asbury College in 1890.

Corra (Weston) Wilcox writes to her class secretary, Louese (Frederick) Hays: "I have this news concerning me and mine. Genevieve was married on December 27 to C. E. Johnson. They are boarding with us. I taught school on the island (near Hilton Head, S. C.) last term and am teaching again this term. It is a one-teacher school with fourteen pupils—no chance for us to consolidate on account of the water. My father is seventy-seven now, and has been living in Birmingham with my brother, who is public service commissioner of Alabama. My whole family is together as Weston is in business with his father, Genevieve and Charlie are here, and Robert is seven years old."

Class Secretary: Mrs. Oscar Crittenden (Helen Land), Shellman, Ga.

Ouida (Beauchamp) Winn has moved from Decatur to Harlem, Ga.

Margaret (Hall) Hazard was one of the visitors to Wesleyan in December, 1931. She was spending some time with her Macon relatives. Margaret was the first editor-in-chief of "The Wesleyan," student literary magazine. She taught rhetoric at Wesleyan after her graduation, until her marriage in 1913. The 1913 annual was dedicated to her, and the staff of the year-book attended her wedding, a beautiful and never-to-be-forgotten event. She is living now in Bloomfield, N. J., and has two daughters, one of whom finished high school this year.

Viola (Ross) Napier was unanimously re-elected city clerk of Macon at the meeting of the City Council in November, 1931.

Class Secretary: Mrs. F. M. Mullino (Mary Addie (Murph) Montezuma, Ga.

Kate (Miller) Calhoun of Savannah, Ga., has four sons, one who finished at Washington and Lee University, one who graduated at Clemson College in June, one in the sixth grade and one in the second grade at school. She has one daughter, a student in high school.

Lucy (Simpson) Streyer of Lumpkin has given to Wesleyan's historical collection a copy of "The Wesleyan" for March, 1901. It is "Volume I, Number I," and Margaret T. Hall was editor-in-chief.

Watts Gunn, son of Virginia (Watts) Gunn of Atlanta, played in an exhibition golf match in Atlanta in September. Watts was a finalist with Bobby Jones in the 1925 U. S. Amateur golf championship.

1903

Class Secretary: Lucy Lester, 658 Pensacola St., Tallahassee, Fla.

Lucile (Hatcher) Northcup's daughter, Jane, was married to Allen Brown on December 2nd, which was the twenty-seventh anniversary of her mother's marriage.

Fliss (Matthews) Guttenberger and her husband have returned to Macon from Pee Wee Valley, Kentucky, and their friends are rejoicing to have them back.

Sympathy is extended to Lalia (Whiting) Fincher in the death of her husband, Frank Fincher, in October, and to his sister, Adelle (Fincher) Shepard, ex '00.

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. L. Ross (Helen Roberts), 629 Orange St., Macon, Ga.

Jeffie (Jordan) Fisher lives in Cochran. She has two sons, Tommie and Jordan, and two daughters, Evelyn and Elizabeth. She also has one small granddaughter, Elizabeth Taylor.

1905

Class Secretary: Margie Burks, Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla.

Margie Burks is teaching Spanish at the Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee, and is among old friends of hers and Mrs. Burks. Lucy Lester, '03, and Dr. Seymour who was the head of her department at the University of Illinois, are her teaching colleagues. She spent a week-end in Macon in September with Minnie (Bass)

Burden, '74, when she joined Eling (Soong) Kung, who came south particularly to see her and to pay respects to memory of Mrs. Burks.

The marriage of Rose (Crutchfield) Jones to R. A. McCord of Atlanta took place on January 1 in Quitman, the old home of the groom. Mr. McCord is a partner in the brokerage of Fenner, Beane and Ungerleider. He was formerly president of the Continental Trust Company of Macon.

Pearl (Peacock) Mathers has moved to Amarillo, Texas, 2110 Polk St.

Woodie (Schley) Campbell is president of the fourth district Parent-Teachers' Association. Her message to the P.-T. A. workers throughout the district was featured on the organization's monthly page in the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer recently and a picture of Mrs. Campbell appeared in the paper.

Oppie (Smith) Guerry's daughter Clara Martin graduated from Shorter in June with the honor of magna. She majored in music and gave a recital in both voice and piano.

1906

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. J. Stewart (Octavia Burden), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

The many friends of Octavia (Burden) Stewart are rejoicing over her recovery from a major operation which kept her at the Middle Georgia Sanitarium the first three weeks of October.

Elizabeth (Hollis) Childs has one daughter, Helen, who graduated in the class of '32 at Wesleyan, one daughter in the senior class in high school, and one son in the fifth grade.

1907

Class Secretary: Mrs. Nelson Mallary (Willie Erminger), 117 Callaway St., Macon, Ga.

Madison Byrd, the older son of Nannaline (King) Byrd and Dan Byrd is a freshman at the University of Georgia this year. He is unusually attractive. Nannaline and her family have a lovely new home, "Tweentrees" in Atlanta, completed just before Christmas last year.

Elizabeth (Moseley) and Bill Coles' boy is a freshman at Emory this year. I have not met him, but if he's as attractive as his younger sister he certainly "rates."

Ella Clare McKellar and I get a glimpse of each other every now and then.

Caro (Twitty) Martin's daughter, Carolyn, whom you met at our reunion is a freshman at Wesleyan this year. I plan to go to see her at the first possible moment and I'll "report on" her in my next.

I saw Mrs. Lula Chapman, Blanche's mother, the other day just as she was changing busses. She looks very little older than when she was at Wesleyan as librarian 25 years ago. She's really wonderful to me.

I know you'll be glad to hear that Mary (Balkcom) Brown has finally been able to take off the plaster cast she has had to wear for the past seven and a half months. It was removed October 11th. For two weeks she will have to stay in bed and let the muscles get strong enough to be used. All her suffering has not been in vain because the doctor says she will be absolutely all right again. Mary's daughter, Louise, graduated at Miller High School this year and is now studying at Business College. She is a very pretty girl, as well as attractive.

One day this summer I saw Julia (Coney) Pate in a drug store here. She had her youngest, age three, with her. She was cute as could be and full of life. Julia's oldest boy is in college.

Macon friends of Maude (Fisher) Sprague are interested to know that she will soon return to Macon to live. She formerly taught at Lanier High School, going overseas with the Red Cross during the war. After the war, she went back to France, accepting a position with the National City Bank of Paris. Later she studied at the Sorbonne and at the University of Grenoble.

I do wish all of you would write to me every now and then and tell me about yourselves, your families, etc. All of the '07 girls would like so to have the news relayed to them.

Tatum (Pope) Happ has the loveliest daughter you nearly ever saw—Josephine. She manages to excel in everything she undertakes and she undertakes numerous things. She is exceptionally attractive looking, does splendidly in school work, excels in painting and dancing, yet with it all she is absolutely unspoiled. Want you all to see her at our next class reunion.

As soon as we recover from the depression, let's have another reunion.

Willie (Erminger) Mallary, Class Secty.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Clayton Buchanan (Mattie Adams), 208 Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Mattie (Adams) Buchanan and Mary Belle (Adams) Davis in the death of their mother, Mrs. H. D. Adams of Macon in August.

Eleanor (Hunter) Cregar is teaching in the Nashville city schools in Tennessee. Her address is 107 32nd Ave. S.

After a visit to Loulie Barnett, Annie (Kirkland) Morris wrote from her home in St. Petersburg, Fla.:

"I think Wesleyan is more dear and beautiful than ever. I am thrilled over the way it is being preserved and cared for. I feel that I would love to be the yard man."

Nan (Pace) Brimberry died January 9 at the Archbold Memorial Hospital in Thomasville after an illness of some years. She is survived by her husband, four children, and her sisters, Vesta (Pace) Crews, '05, and Genie (Pace) Bell, '98.

Regina (Rambo) Benson is running as an independent candidate for congress in the Seventh District of Georgia.

Sympathy is extended to Linda Sullivan in the death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah R. Sullivan on May 20, 1931, and of her two uncles, Captain W. D. Sullivan, 93-year-old patriot, in October, 1931, and Dr. Robert B. Gilkerson of Honea Path, Ala., in January, 1932.

Margaret Van Dyke, M. B. '08, married Congressman W. W. Larsen of Dublin on April 5, 1932.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. C. Cantrell (Estelle Manning), Carrollton, Ga.

Wesleyan College was hostess in September to one of her most distinguished alumnae, Madame H. H. Kung, wife of the minister of commerce and industry of the nationalist government in China. But she came, not as one of the foremost political figures of the Orient, but as "Eling Soong" of the class of 1909, and she wrote before she came:

"I shall make a desperate effort to come back to Wesleyan, for I really long to see the friends of my youth, those with whom I have lost touch these many years, but whom I have never forgotten. I love America next to my own country. I should like to be received by my old friends as an ordinary Wesleyan alumna."

Her friends, her old teachers, her classmates gathered at Wesleyan to see her; Margie Burks, A. B. '05, teacher of Eling and her two sisters, Chungling Soong, now the widow of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese Republic and Meling, now Madame Chaing Kai-Shek, wife of the second president of the Republic, came from Tallahassee, Fla.; Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth, A. B. '91, wife of the former president of Wesleyan and bishop to the Orient, came from Birmingham, Ala.; Nonie (Acree) Quillian, Eling's classmate with whom she gave her senior recital, came from Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Dupont Guerry, widow of the president of Wesleyan when Eling was a student, returned from a visit to South Carolina to be with her. Her classmates, Estelle (Manning) Cantrell of Carrollton, and Ollie Belle (Holt) Wright of Ft. Valley came from out-of-town, and a number of her college friends living in Macon were present at the tea given for her in the Wesleyan parlors Sunday afternoon, Sept. 25.

She received her friends informally at tea, dressed becomingly in a black and white flowered silk of Chinese cut. Professors and officials of today who remember Madame Kung as the student Eling Soong are Prof. J. C. Hinton, J. W. W. Daniel, M. C. Quillian, Mrs. Florrie C. White and Miss Banks Armand. Matibel (Pope) Mitchell, A. B. '02, now teaching at Miller High School in Macon, was also Eling's teacher at Wesleyan.

One day of her visit she made a special visit to Rose Hill cemetery to place roses on the graves of her beloved President Guerry, and ordered that flowers be sent to the graves of Mrs. M. M. Burks, Dr. W. B. Bonnell, and Prof. Charles R. Forster.

She talked of her sisters. Chungling, she says, has lived abroad for the past few years doing research work. The youngest of the sisters, Meiling, is chiefly interested in the education of orphan children and in the Moral Endeavor Club organized for the uplift of soldiers and officers in training in Nanking. Eling herself is interested in the education of girls, and is at present educating 50 Chinese girls.

Dr. H. H. Kung, her husband, is a direct descendant of Confucius. He is a Christian, as are all of Eling's family. He was in America in September on an industrial mission. Their 15-year-old son, David, whose Chinese name is Ling Kai, was with them. Their other children are a son, Ling Gih, and two daughters, Ling Yi (Rosamund), and Ling Tsin (Jeannette May).

Eling brought for each of the girls who graduated in her class a lovely piece of rare Chinese embroidery, and these gifts were sent to all those who could not come to Wesleyan while she was here. She wrote from New York just before she left for California to sail for the Orient:

"I have received many delightful letters from my classmates, and I only wish I could write to them each one separately, but owing to my busy though useless life, I am unable to gratify that desire."

Ruth (Pinkston) Norman's daughter, Lila, was highly honored in the Columbus High school by being selected most representative and friendliest girl in the senior class. The secretary of the Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Columbus sends in a clipping from the newspaper giving this information.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Robert D. Shaw (Susie Kroner), 287 Arthur St., Plymouth, Michigan.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Robert D. Shaw (Susie Kroner), 287 Arthur St., Plymouth, Michigan.

Sympathy is extended to Jessie (Isaacs) Bernd in the death of her father, Edward A. Isaacs, traveling salesman of Macon in October, 1931. Mr. Isaacs, who was still active after a long business career, experienced difficulty in walking while in Millen on a business trip, was brought home by his companion, and died suddenly that night in his sleep.

1911

Class Secretary: Mrs. Warren Timmerman, (Marie Adams), 657 College St., Macon, Ga.

Celeste (Dunbar) Lindsay has written a novel which was published by Lincoln MacVeagh, The Dial Press, this year. The brief synopsis which appears on the jacket says:

"'Red Dusk' tells of the amusing and sometimes tragic experiences of an impoverished young widow, confronted with the problem of caring for her child, and of steering a sane course through the prejudices and loyalties of the small community in which she lives.

"In 'Mimosa' Celeste Dunbar Lindsay gives us an unforgettable picture of a village of the inland south. She has portrayed phases of Southern Life that are not often represented in fiction, and the inevitable 'negro question' is dealt with from a somewhat different angle.

"The title gains significance from the gloomy beauty of the rugged red hills of the South that charm and sadden. All the characters reflect this local color. Written with a singular honesty and a quiet humanity, the book as a whole finds its chief strength in its charm."

Blanche Neese, special '11, married Jefferson Davis Cooper of Eastman in February.

At Floy (Oliver) Alden's home on Roswell Road the Atlanta Alumnae Club entertained the high school seniors with a steak fry on October 29. Dorothy (Blackmon) Kersh, A. B. '28, as vice-president and chairman of schools, as well as the five Atlanta group chairmen, assisted in entertaining the guests.

Class Secretary: Jennie Loyall, Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.

Mary Bethea was married a year ago on November 7th. to Dr. Robert Fleetwood Darwin, who has been practicing in Dillon for several years. He is a graduate of Wofford College and the University of Maryland, and is a veteran of the World War. They had a beautiful home wedding.

Marie (Bradley) Dietz, who says it seems to her that she "moves at every pause in the conversation" is living now at 111 Frelinghuysen St., Battle Creek, Michigan.

Ruth (Dix) Whigham writes: "Do you remember Ethel Darling, 1911? This fall at a District Missionary Conference our Mission Study Superintendent was on the program and Mrs. DeWitt Chapman turned out to be Ethel Darling! I was so happy to see her. There were five other 'Wesleyan girls' at that meeting. Maybe I have a partial eye, but women who were Wesleyan girls always seem to rank A-1 in charm and personality!"

Nellie (Irwin) Horkan writes from Henderson, Texas, where she has lived since September, 1931:

ESTABLISH A MEMORIAL

TO ESTABLISH a college memorial is to perpetuate a name down through the ages and to play an important part in the advancement of one's Alma Mater.

Opportunities are offered in the Emergency Appeal for the establishment of a number of Memorials through the naming of buildings and rooms.

Building Memorials range from $50,000 to $100,000.

A dormitory Room will be named for a person or College Class or Alumnae Club for as low as $1,000. Here's an excellent opportunity for alumnae, classes and clubs.

Establish a memorial at your Alma Mater.

"There is no way on earth to know an oil country during an oil boom except to live in it. When we were coming out to Texas the dust was so thick from the steady stream of traffic that we often drove with the lights on in the middle of the day, and then it was impossible to see a car only a few yards ahead. All along the road were little shacks where whole families lived, huge oil derricks like giants in the distance, people lying asleep on the ground with newspapers rolled under their heads.

Thousands and thousands of people in little towns where there were so recently almost none. And such people! Different from any I have ever seen or known, a law unto themselves. I did want to tell you about the nice, quiet woman rooming next door who kindly brought me a lemon pie, such a good lemon pie and such a nice lady. She left for another town, and soon two detectives inquired of the landlady her whereabouts. She was the head of a Chicago gang of hijackers!

Alma Pearl (Jackson) Vaughn, lives in Melbourne, Fla. She has two children, a daughter in Florida State College for Women and a son in the senior class in high school.

Marie (McManus) Kernaghan has a son, Richard Brownell, born September 28 at the Macon Hospital.

Dr. Whitman had a delightful letter from Caroline Owen telling of her summer in Spain and her studies at Centro de Estudios Historicos of Madrid. She says:

"None other than the illustrious Miguel de Unamuno stayed in the dormitory a while, and we talked to him. He gave each of us an autographed book. After our English, Dutch, Belgium and French sightseeing we went from Biarritz to San Sebastian by motor. After our school work we went to Granada, Ronda, Algeciras, Morocco, Africa, Seville and Cordoba. You can imagine my great excitement when I was awakened one morning in Seville by the shouts on the Plaza, and leaning over the balconies saw

THE SITUATION

1. Unless Wesleyan maintains her accredited ranking in the Southern Association of Colleges her very existence is threatened.
2. Loss of this ranking will reflect upon the prestige of the alumnae as well as the college, and may affect our diplomas and certificates.
3. Wesleyan can retain its "A Grade" ranking only by paying off its indebtedness.
4. BUT—if the debt is paid, retention of accredited standing is assured, interest charges will decrease, and our Alma Mater will be in position to give greater and greater service in the years to come.

mobs in the streets, the burning buildings

7. of the newspaper, the aristocratic clubs, and the Casa Blanca, and the following day we were locked in the cathedral while the prison was burned and the prisoners freed. We saw the governor in his balcony quieting the people after his restoration. No harm was done us, and I feel that I understand the Spanish people better now that I have been in one of their revolutions. In Cordoba we had a delightful time. One of our friends in Madrid had written the mayor of our visit, and he and two friends carried us out for a long drive one night, and the next day carried us to the museum. They gave us flowers and Don Quixote souvenirs as farewell gifts."

WE MUST DO OUR SHARE

THE ISSUE IS clear cut. Wesleyan is our college and the Emergency Appeal is our task. The college and the campaign await our response to a call to duty—a call upon which the very life of our Alma Mater depends.

We, the Alumnae, are not alone in doing this work. The campaign is being conducted by a great, three-fold organization: among the Methodists of Georgia, among the citizens of Greater Macon, and among the graduates and former students of the college.

Macon, itself, plans to raise $250,000 of the $1,250,000 fund. The Church and the Alumnae are asked to subscribe the rest. Within the North and South Georgia Conferences, the alumnae will work hand in hand with the church, with an alumnae associate chairman in each District, in each group into which the District is being divided, and in each church charge in the group.

Please, daughters of Wesleyan, do not hesitate to join wholeheartedly in this campaign and thus prove an inspiration to all our Methodist friends and our Macon friends.

Outside the state of Georgia, the alumnae are being organized by zones and groups and will be canvassed either personally or by mail. When you are asked to aid in this great movement, either personally or by mail, please do your part to facilitate the work and respond early to the call.

Remember the Centennial Club. Through this every alumna is asked to pledge a minimum of $100—a matter of $20 on each of five installments over a period of almost two years. Surely we can all do that much for the school that has meant so much to us.

Remember also, the Memorial opportunities. For as low as $1,000 individual alumnae or clubs or classes can establish Memorial Dormitory rooms, thus perpetuating names down through the ages for all the coming generations to see.

And do not forget that unless this crushing burden of indebtedness is removed from our Alma Mater she faces the loss of her accredited ranking, together with a loss of prestige and the danger of complete extinction.

But let us think of the glorious future that lies ahead of our college through the clearing away of this debt and placing the institution in a sound, impregnable financial position.

Wesleyan is our Alma Mater. The campaign is our campaign. We must—we shall—do our share.
